

About Dr. Angart

Over the past two decades, Dr. Jeffrey Angart has built a distinguished career in dentistry and is currently the proprietor of Capitol Square Dental, with offices in downtown Columbus and Worthington. In the fall of 2003, he will open the Center for Dental Health in New Albany – the realization of a career-long dream.

After receiving a B.S. in Ceramic Engineering from The Ohio State University's College of Engineering, Dr. Angart began his career working with dental materials, which led to a growing interest in dentistry. He graduated from OSU's College of Dentistry and is now considered an expert, both nationally and internationally, in ceramics and composite technology and their applications in dentistry. He is an author, a frequent lecturer to professional groups and a consult to several dental manufacturers.

Dr. Angart resides in New Albany with his wife and children and looks forward to walking to the Center for Dental Health every day!

A note from Dr. Jeffrey Angart:

When I began practicing nearly 20 years ago, I knew I wanted to take dental care to a whole new level – where patients would be active partners in their own dental health. Opening The Center for Dental Health represents the culmination of that desire, two decades of experience and the finest in leading-edge technology. Within a comfortable, non-traditional environment, my staff and I are committed to providing personalized care to each of our patients. And, our office is located in an attractive and accessible location, not only for patients living in and around the community but also for those traveling to the area.

Because I'm fortunate enough to love what I do, I've put my heart and soul into our new Center! We're eager to open our doors to serve you and your family, beginning in early fall. In the meantime, please give us a call. We'll be happy to show you around.

Best regards,

Jeffrey L. Angart, DDS

Dental care that's all about you.

Introducing the

We invite you to try a brand new, personalized approach to dental care, designed completely around the needs of our patients. From the most sophisticated equipment to our warm, home-like surroundings, we've carefully selected every detail with you in mind.

Through a combination of expertise and state-of-the-art technology, we offer the very latest dental procedures to each and every patient, adults and children alike. And because we know that comfort and privacy are also important, we provide a special patient lounge for relaxing during long procedures and a play area for children.

Most importantly, we focus on helping you attain optimal dental health. We take time to learn what each patient needs to feel comfortable and confident with any dental process, from routine cleanings and repairs to esthetics and more complex care.

Family-centered care

We've taken special steps to accommodate the needs of all your family members. For example, we've created special nooks for children, as well as quiet areas for adults. And because complex dental procedures can sometimes require a lengthy visit, we've created a completely private concierge suite: a well-appointed lounge where patients can relax, watch a plasma-screen TV or access high-speed Internet connections.

Respect for your time

We appreciate your busy schedule, so we designed our patient scheduling system to minimize your waiting time. We've also installed our own on-site, state-of-the-art dental lab as part of our commitment to making your experience with us as comfortable and convenient as possible. Our technicians custom-fit each patient and make necessary adjustments immediately.

An emphasis on education

We believe education to be a key ingredient in providing the highest level of patient care. Therefore, our technology includes an interactive patient education system – an important tool for helping patients become partners in their own dental health. Additionally, we are recognized as a professional teaching facility, complete with video broadcasting capabilities, where other dentists come to learn about the latest dental techniques.

Looking ahead

Increasingly, the field of dentistry is taking a holistic approach to patient care. Often referred to as “spa dentistry,” this means providing a variety of non-traditional services – for instance, massage therapy, aromatherapy or acupuncture – to further enhance patients' comfort and well-being.

We're evaluating a number of these services and hope to offer some of them in the future. Again, the decision to offer “spa” services will be based on our commitment to offering the highest level of dental care to our patients.
